

This volume makes available to students of Philippine linguistics and scholars interested in Philippine languages and dialects nine selected articles of Dr. Cecilio Lopez, the first Filipino scientific linguist. The articles, which were published between 1925 and 1972, are synchronic and diachronic studies of Philippine languages and dialects with emphasis on Tagalog.

Dr. Lopez is currently Professor Emeritus of Linguistics and Oriental Studies at the University of the Philippines. Prior to his retirement in 1963, he was Professor of Linguistics and head of the Department of Oriental Languages and Linguistics, UP. He has published at least twenty-five scientific studies dealing with Philippine languages and dialects. His latest published works (1976) are two sequels to his A Comparative Philippine Word-List (1974).

ERNESTO CONSTANTINO, Professor of Linguistics and holder of professorial chair in linguistics in the Department of Linguistics and Asian Languages, College of Arts and Sciences, University of the Philippines, studied linguistics at the UP, Cornell University, University of Michigan, Indiana University and Yale University. He received his Ph.D. degree in linguistics at Indiana University. He was a Guggenheim Fellow at Yale University in 1964 and a Senior Specialist in linguistics at the East-West Center in 1967-68. He is a member of the National Research Council of the Philippines and of the Philippine Linguistics Circle. He edits The Archive and Literatura ng Pilipinas.
