THE GABRIEL A. BERNARDO MEMORIAL LECTURE SERIES

Gabriel Adriano Bernardo (March 14, 1891 – December 5, 1962) was aptly called the doyen of Filipino librarians because of his dedication to the cause of his profession which endured for almost half a century. He served as the first chief librarian of the University of the Philippines where he started as lecturer in library science in 1920 and rose to the rank of full professor in 1935. He retired in 1957 as Emeritus Librarian and Professor of Library Science. As a tribute to this great man, the U.P. Institute of Library Science (UPILS) initiated in 1974 a series of memorial lectures in his honor. Twenty-seven have been held, with the following topics and lecturers:
