

Notes on the Contributors

Jaime Faustino- Aguado is taking up M.A. in Political Science at the University of the Philippines, and this article is part of his thesis draft on the politics and economics of transition. He worked with the Ministry of Agriculture in Nicaragua for a year.

Ruperto P. Alonso is an Associate Professor at the School of Economics, University of the Philippines.

Arief Budiman is with the Lembaga Studi Pembangunan (Institute for Development Studies) in Jakarta.

Dante B. Canlas is Professor at the School of Economics and presently the College Secretary of this School at the University of the Philippines.

Teresa S. Encarnacion teaches European politics and American foreign policy. Her research interests include issues in international political economy such as debt and Law of the Sea. She was a recipient of a Friedrich Ebert Stiftung research grant to study the European Economic Community, Brussels, Belgium last May 1988.

Raul V. Fabella is an Associate Professor and the Director of Public Affairs at the UP School of Economics.

Cayetano Paderanga, Jr. is an Associate Professor and the Director for Graduate Admission and Fellowship at the School of Economics, University of the Philippines.

Felipe M. Medalla is Professor at the School of Economics and the Vice President for Planning and Finance of the University of the Philippines.

Henry Ysaac is taking up his M.A. in Public Administration. He coordinates the TWSC in-house discussions and will contribute accounts of these discussions starting with this issue.

EDITOR: Randolph S. David MANAGING EDITOR: Ma. Corazon Baytion EDITORIAL ASSISTANTS: Belinda Calaguas, Liberty A. E. Tapaoan

EDITORIAL BOARD: Leslie E. Bauzon, History; Cynthia Rose Banzon- Bautista, Sociology; Edmundo G. Garcia, Third World Affairs; Bienvenido Lumbea, Culture; Alexander R. Magno, Politics; Manuel Montes, Economics; Roger Posadas, Science and Technology

TWS PRODUCTION STAFF: Teresa Encarnacion, Teresita del Rosario-Hanrath, Cornelia D. Fabito, Ireneo F. Francisco, Macaria B. Francisco, Jose M. Garcia, Bienvenida Lacsamana, Francisco A. Magno, Patricio N. Abinales, Melissa Hubahib, Leonor Rivera, Henry Isaac

*The editorial staff of KASARINLAN apologizes for the great delay in the printing and release of the present issue. In an effort to save time and money, the staff experimented with a borrowed laser printer to produce camera-ready pages. We are very sorry that this attempt has not yielded encouraging results. We promise to do better next time.